NEWSPAPERARCHIVE

Reclamation of Desert Lands.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—This morning Representatives Morrow and Lottitt appeared before the House Committee on Public Lands, of which Mr. Henley is a member, to advocate the adoption of Henley's bill to promote the reclamation of desert lands. This bill allows any one, upon the payment in advance of 25 cents per acre, to file a declaration of intention to reclaim a tract of land not exceeding one section, by conducting water upon said lands, so as to thoroughly irrigate and reclaim the same within three years, at the expiration of which period, if it can be shown that he has expended at least $1 per acre each year, that is, $3 per acre during the three years, a patent shall issue to him. All lands, exclusive of timber and mineral lands, which will not, without irrigation, produce some agricultural crop, shall be deemed desert lands within the meaning of the Act, which will only apply to the States of California, Oregon and Nevada, the Territories of Washington, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Wyoming, Arizona, New Mexico, and Dakota. Several bills are pending before the committee to repeal the laws providing for the pre-emption of timber and culture entries. The California Representatives stated that in their State there was about 50,000,000 acres of land that should be occupied by settlers that could be reclaimed from the deserts. The old desert law, they admitted, had been a failure, and they advocated in strong terms the adoption of Henley's bill, or some measure of the kind that would tend to make desert lands available for settlement.

The California Supreme Court has made an order suspending ex-City and County Attorney J. F. Cowdery and attorney D. H. Whittlemore from practicing law for a period of six months. The attorneys were suspended for misconduct in the management of the street assessment cases of Bonnett & Parker, against San Francisco, the Buckley contempt case growing out of the same suit, that were advanced on the calendar, as alleged by Buckley's influence. The Court held Buckley's guilt was not established, and the order of contempt was dismissed.

It is reported that the Judiciary Committee of the Senate has voted to report adversely upon the nomination of Zachariah Montgomery of California, as Assistant District Attorney General for the Interior Department. The grounds of the objection are said to be the sentiment expressed by the nominee with respect to the public school system, which sentiments were publicly expressed in a pamphlet issued by him several years ago.

The work of Congress has been clearly enough mapped out to enable the old members to say approximately when the session will end. Major McKinley told the Chronicle correspondent Thursday evening that he thought Congress would get through its work about the end of June. The Senate has already done much work, and the committees of the House, in which all the preliminary work is transacted, are progressing rapidly.

Mr. Shaw Le Fevre, ex-Postmaster General, in an article in the Nineteenth Century, advocates the federal principle for Ireland, with large powers of autonomy, retaining representation in the Imperial Parliament. He indicates that this is Mr. Gladstone's scheme.

President Cleveland, it is remarked, has been singularly unfortunate in the interruptions of his receptions at the White House. Four times already the death of some prominent person has caused a postponement of festivities.

The fastest talker in Congress is said to be Congressman Mills, from Texas. He speaks at the rate of 215 words a minute.

Oscar Wilde is coming to this country again.

G. A. R. Address to the Public by the Committee of Arrangement.

At the meeting of the General Committee of the G. A. R. on Wednesday night, the following address was approved, and issued to the newspapers for publication:

To the Citizens of San Francisco: For years there has been a lively competition between the larger cities of the United States to secure the National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. San Francisco has been a competitor, and has carried off the prize for 1886. It is not within the province of this circular to detail the efforts which have been made by representatives of the Grand Army of the Republic in the Department of California to bring about this result; suffice it to say, that they have worked long and arduously in the good work. They have received the hearty co-operation of the Chief Executive and the Legislature of the State, resulting in an appropriation by the State of $25,000, to assist in defraying the incidental expenses.

We cannot better state, in a few words, the advantages which are likely to accrue to our city and State from this gathering than to quote from the Governor's message to the Legislature, recommending the appropriation, as follows:

"After due consideration of the matter I am convinced that aid should be extended to this object. In addition to the patriotic sentiments which such a gathering would inspire in the hearts of our people, I believe that it would be of incalculable benefit to our commonwealth in disseminating a knowledge of the resources of this State and its advantages as a place of residence, thus promoting a much-needed immigration of desirable citizens."

The Hon. J. B. Stetson, President of the Board of Trade of San Francisco, considered the holding of the national encampment in this city of sufficient importance and interest to our substantial citizens to deserve special mention in his annual report, and we take great pleasure in quoting his remarks:

"There is an event to occur in this city during the coming Summer which, although not of a mercantile character, is one in which we should take an earnest and patriotic interest. The twentieth national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will be held in San Francisco next August, and will be composed of observing and intelligent men. The impressions which these visitors receive will be of incalculable value to the interests of the city and State, and it is desirable that they should carry with them, on the return to their homes, kind remembrances of our people and intelligent conceptions and opinions of the conditions and resources of this State. The Grand Army of the Republic in its organization is commemorative of important events in the history of this country, and the coming here of the various 'posts' from the different States to hold an encampment in this city is looked forward to with pleasure, as affording our citizens the opportunity to extend to the association and its members a hearty welcome with generous and liberal entertainment. I believe the merchants of San Francisco, ever thoughtful of treating all distinguished visitors with true California hospitality, will avail themselves of this suitable occasion by liberal and generous contributions, to materially aid in making the reception and entertainment of these veterans and their organization a notable event and a credit to the city and country."

The Grand Army of the Republic has at this time a membership of 400,000 in round numbers. The organization is made up entirely of men who did honorable service in the army and navy of the United States during the war of the rebellion, and from present indications at least 20,000 of these veterans will come across the Rocky Mountains to attend the encampment.

The duty of providing for the entertainment of this vast number has been imposed upon the General Committee of Management. It is a duty involving hard and constant labor, the details of which can scarcely be imagined; comparison may, however, be made by those who had experience in the Triennial Conclave of 1883, which occasion brought to this city scarcely 5,000 people, exclusive of those from the Pacific States.

The committee was appointed by the department commander, and has already been at work seven months; its organization, acts and proceedings thus far met with the unanimous approval of the department encampment which assembled at Sacramento, February 18, 1885. To properly receive, care for and entertain our guests will require a large expenditure of money, which must be raised by contributions from our generous public.

The Committee of General Management has selected a finance committee for the occasion, which will have charge of the collection of all moneys. It is composed of leading business men of San Francisco; men of acknowledged integrity and ability, and whose names are a sufficient guaranty that all contributions of money to this object will be honestly and economically expended.

At an early day the Finance Committee will call upon our citizens for subscriptions, and in anticipation of the call, the Committee of General Management has thought proper to issue this address.

Citizens of San Francisco, much is expected of you on this occasion, by our prospective visitors.

The generous hospitality of California is a reputation to be proud of and to be maintained.

The patriotism of her citizens is unbounded, and their gratitude to the nation's defenders unsurpassed.

No such gathering of the heroic survivors of that great army will ever again be held within our borders, and perhaps never again in the world; they will come from all parts of the Union, and from all walks and conditions in life. They are coming that our rising generation may "read upon the battle-scarred countenances of the heroes of the Grand Army and learn from the eloquence of the empty sleeve and the missing leg a story of patriotism that should be graven deep into the minds of the American people, forever and for aye." They are "the remnant of that mighty host beneath whose tread this continent rocked but a few years ago."

They are coming twenty thousand strong, to renew acquaintanceship with old comrades who have made homes among us, to rehearse with them the story of the camp and the battle-field; to look upon our golden sunset land and enjoy the hospitality of a grateful and enthusiastic people.

They are but the rear guard of that grand army upon which, within our remembrance, hung the hope of the nation. The main body has "crossed the dark river and pitched their shining tents

Where glory guards, with solemn rounds, The bivouac of the dead."

The committee appeals to the patriotic, generous and public-spirited citizens of San Francisco for liberal contributions of money, with the expectation of a hearty response; and in the full faith that each individual citizen will do his best to make our coming jubilee an occasion which will reflect great credit upon our city, and materially add to the prosperity of the State.

Jumbo Himself Again.

The New York World's Rochester special of February 25th says: Since last Fall Professor Ward's workmen have been preparing and stripping the skin of Jumbo, and to-morrow it will be inspected by a party of newspaper men from Boston, New York and other places. Professor Ward will make an address giving a history of the famous animal. Jumbo was twenty-four years of age when he died, and Ward says he would probably have grown much larger. The articulated remains stand on a pedestal twelve feet long, supported by eight two-inch bolts, the whole weighing 10,000 pounds. The weight of the elephant is three tons. In the interior of the great breast is a framework of oak timbers, bolted together. In place of the big bones two inch rods of wrought iron are used, which run up to the frame in the body. The tusks are screwed on iron rods projecting from the head, and the glass eyes are the natural size and color. After making the framework of the elephant the body was formed by a process similar to that of lathing a house, strips of oak two feet long, and an inch in width and thickness, being used. A layer of hair or tow was placed over the woodwork and the hide stretched over it. The model of Jumbo is the largest piece of work of the kind ever attempted, probably in the world, and Jumbo is really as good as new.

President and Senate.

New York, Feb. 26.—The Tribune's Washington special of February 25th says: The Democratic Senators have completed their minority report on the Edmunds resolutions, and they will present it as soon as all of them have had an opportunity to examine it. Some of them now go so far as to say that in case the Senate rejects a person he may still continue to fill the office till the Senate adjourns, when the President can appoint him again, and thus nullify that clause of the Constitution which requires the "advice and consent" of the Senate.

The California Marshalling.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 25.—Neither the appointed and confirmed United States Marshal, John S. Franks, nor the Federal Judges have received any reply to their telegrams sent to Washington days ago, making inquiry as to the commission of Mr. Franks. The only explanation suggested for this delay is that the President, at the eleventh hour, hesitated to affix his signature to the commission, for reasons best known to the Chief Magistrate. Some time previous to the expiration of the four years' term of office of Marshal Drew the attention of Justice Field was called to the fact that the time was hardly sufficient for an appointment of his successor and confirmation by the Senate, and asking that the term of Marshal be extended to bridge over the intervene as was done in the cases of his predecessors, this special power being lodged in Justice Field as the Judge of the Ninth United States Circuit Court. On the 10th of December, 1877, Justice Field reappointed Marshal Marcellus, and he continued in office some two months, and until Marshal Poole presented his commission. The latter was also reappointed by Justice Field, and he continued in office three months after his four years' term had expired and until superseded by Marshal Drew. Why the same course was not pursued in the present instance is an enigma not at present easy of solution.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 27.—This morning Judge Sawyer, United States Circuit Judge, received a dispatch from Washington, officially notifying him that on February 25th, President Cleveland forwarded Marshal Frank's commission by mail. This notification being equivalent to reception of the document, Judge Sawyer will swear in Marshal Franks on Monday morning, and the business of the United States Courts will be resumed.

In the Fight to Stay.

A San Francisco Alta reporter saw General Superintendent Fillmore, of the Central Pacific Road Wednesday afternoon and had a brief talk with him. "You may say," said the official, "that we are taking business, both passenger and freight, wherever we can get it. We are in this fight to stay and do not mean to be thrown down by any other line. The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe began the tumble and we propose to see the thing through, come what may. We are doing a rushing business. The Southern Pacific is taking eighty-five per cent. of the oranges out of Los Angeles at present. On Wednesday a special train of seventeen cars left there for Omaha making passenger train time. Another train will leave to-day via El Paso on the Texas and Pacific. We alternate between El Paso and Ogden and are now running three specials a week. If we had but one, two or three cars of freight, we hitch them on to the regular passenger trains. We are carrying barley to New York via New Orleans, all rail, for eight dollars a ton, the usual water rates. It's a hot fight, but we do not propose to show the white feather."

Intimations That Secretary Whitney is Also Crooked.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean's Washington special of February 25th says: There has been a large sized skeleton at all the feasts which Secretary Whitney has been giving here in the way of carrying of Jeffersonian simplicity, which the present administration has been introducing. It is stated by those who ought to know that he is seriously implicated and compromised by the investigation of the Broadway street railway in New York. For several days he has been absent from Washington, and callers at the department have been told that he was in Philadelphia. His gaital presence was missed at the Cabinet meeting to-day, and Mrs. Whitney received her friends alone to-night. The Secretary is in Jersey City in concealment. He dare not go to New York for fear of being hauled before Conkling's committee and is in consultation with his friends and the lawyers who are dependent upon to get him out of the scrape. The President is very much concerned, it is said, at Mr. Whitney's predicament.

The Battle Mountain Central Nevada of Thursday says of politics in Austin:

County politics are being discussed somewhat already and it is said that the Republican slate is almost filled out. We were unable to procure the names of the supposed candidates, but know that the slate will not be broken in the coming convention. It is thought that the grand old party will be victorious in the main fight, but most of the knowing ones concede the offices of District Attorney and County Clerk to the Democracy if run for by the present incumbents. For State officers J. H. Kinkead is favorably spoken of by the Republicans for Governor, and Powning seems to be the favorite for United States Senator.

The official statement of the Southern Pacific Company for December, shows gross earnings of $2,655,136; operating expenses, $1,228,318; net earnings of $1,426,818. The interests on bonded debt sinking funds and all other expenses and charges amounted to $1,216,389, and the expenditures for construction and improvement were $183,842.

Elko is now without a minister of any denomination, and there seems to be no occasion for one, as our citizens all seem to be enjoying very good health, and peace reigns within our borders. The last two experiments in that direction proved, in each case, to be rather an expensive luxury.—Independent.

The Mississippi Legislature has passed an Act establishing a Railroad Commission, composed of three members, one from each of the three Supreme Court Districts.

INTER-STATE RIFLE MATCH.—Inexpunging of the shooting match between the California Schnutzen Club Team and the Carson Guard team, which was shot last Sunday, the San Francisco Alta says it has given much satisfaction to marksmen here, on account of the manner in which it was conducted on both sides, and also because of the handsome style in which the San Francisco marksmen defeated the Nevadans. The superiority of the Washoe sharpshooters over Californians at the target has been demonstrated on more than one occasion, and the defeats sustained by the good shots of the Golden State was a matter of regret among them. The victory of the Schnutzen team, on that account, is all the more acceptable, and every member of it has been complimented and thanked for the result. The home team won by 57 points. The average of Schnutzen Team was 85.9-20 per cent.; of the Carson Team 82.3-5 per cent. Analyzing the aggregates—the Carson papers do not give the detailed scores—the records show that two men in the Schnutzen Team made 90 per cent. and upwards, while the third man in the local team 89, that being the top score in the Carson. An 88 was made here, and two 87s scored here and one there. Two 86s were made by each team. Six 85s by the Schnutzen against three by their opponents. Of the 84s three were counted here and five in Carson. The next lowest scores by the Schnutzens were 81 and 79, while the Carson Team made three 80s, two 79s, one 77 and one 71. The result shows that the Carson men were outshot in every way. Several good shots are missed from the Carson team, but it is doubtful whether if the Guard had had all of its champions on the ground it could have beaten the splendid percentage of the California marksmen, which is the best ever made in a match for the number of men and under the conditions.

The match will not be the last between California and Nevada, by any means. Already a return match is talked of, and as soon as the weather settles on the other side of the Sierras, so the riders there can practice and get in their old-time form, a challenge from them is expected by the victors of the Schnutzen club. The Washoe men will be met half way, however, and the result will be better shooting than in the former contest.

THE JUDICIARY BILL.—The State of Nevada, ex rel. Tremor Coffin, Relator, vs. C. C. Atherton, J. H. Martin and James Morris, County Commissioners of Ormsby county, Nevada, Respondents, is the title of case No. 1,236 in the Supreme Court. The relator has made application for a writ of mandamus from the Supreme Court to compel the County Commissioners of that county to insert in the election notice an order for the election of a District Judge for the Second Judicial District. This brings the question squarely before the deciding authority, and their decision will settle this much discussed question.

THE CARSON MINT.—Senator Fair is evidently trying to turn the tide of Presidential policy in reference to our Mint and Postal affairs.

Superintendent Garrard has received the following telegram:

"WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25, 1886. —Wm. Garrard: I have presented Clark's address to Secretary Manning and made strong personal argument on Mint matters. If you suggest any additional reasons for re-opening the Mint, please mail them immediately and telegraph me when mailed. Feel hopeful of success in both Mint and Mail matters. JAMES G. FAIR."

EATING STATIONS CROWDED.—The increased travel over the railroad, while it makes a rich harvest for the eating stations, taxes them to their utmost capacity. To furnish meals for 200 passengers in thirty minutes, where they have been accustomed to having only forty or fifty, is no easy task, but it is done to the entire satisfaction of the passengers at the Depot Hotel.

It is thought that the young ladies of Reno can beat the "Dude" nine of the same town playing ball.—Carson Tribune.

It would be a walk-over for the girls.

The Carson Tribune says: The man who thinks he can beat Uncle George Tuffy for State Treasurer is a fool.

MEXICAN TYPICAL ORCHESTRA.—Inspiring of Saturday morning says:

A crowded house welcomed the advent of the famous Mexican Typical Orchestra at the Opera House last night. The performance of this company of musicians is quite a musical novelty, and one of the best ever given on the Comstock. Indeed, seldom has a Virginia City audience received a greater treat in the shape of music than that offered last night, and it will be a long time before those who heard it will forget it. The players, in their natural costume, with their unique instruments, presented a pleasing picture. From the beginning to the end the audience exhibited its enthusiastic appreciation by well-deserved applause and encores, and would not be denied. The orchestra is perfect in diapason, rich in color, and all through there are most charming and entrancing numbers. The solo by E. Garcia on the salterio, a many stringed instrument which looked like a musical centipede, was exquisitely rendered and loudly applauded. Then followed a xylophone solo by Carlos Curti, which was exceedingly well given. A positive encore brought back the Senor, and he gave the "Suwanee River" in a manner which brought down the house. He played it with an expression as sweet as it was remarkable on such an instrument, and created quite a sensation. The performance of Schubert's Serenade was simply beautiful. This orchestra is particularly fitted for the rendition of that class of music, and they played Schubert's Serenade in a manner not to be excelled. The singing and dancing was well done and received with good-natured applause. Altogether, the Mexican Orchestra made a very favorable impression. Their entertainment was delightful and charming, and they deserve packed houses for the remainder of their engagement.

There will be a matinee this afternoon at 2 o'clock, on which occasion last evening's exquisite programme will be repeated. There will be an entire change of programme this evening, the farwell performance of the company. Lovers of fine music will do well to attend, as it may be a very long time before they can enjoy another such treat.

A GREAT COMET TO BE VISIBLE.—ALBANY, Feb. 18.—The Evening Journal says that Prof. Lewis Boss, of the Dudley Observatory, has made the discovery that the comet seen at Paris on December 1st is slowly increasing in brightness. The increase will continue slow until April 1st, when it will begin to be much more rapid, and by the middle of the month will become visible to the naked eye. Two weeks later it will reach its maximum of brightness, when its appearance will be much like that of 1882, and be visible all night. It will also, as that of 1881, be seen in the western sky. When nearest the earth it will only be 12,000,000 miles distant. It will retain its brightness until May 14th, when it will gradually fade from the vision, to appear later to the people south of the Equator. The Barnard comet is discovered also to be increasing in brightness, but will not become visible to the naked eye. In August it will also disappear from telescopic view, to reappear with the Paris comet south of the Equator. Neither comet has a previous recorded appearance.

WHAT WILL COME OF IT?—The Transcontinental pool has been broken, and now all lines between here and New York are cutting rates. You can now go third class to New York for $40, with a good prospect of $25. The railroads haven't the sense to see it, but they will find before many months that they are making more money carrying full trains at low rates, than one-third full at high rates. In the end the blind railroad companies will find that they have struck a good thing.—Carson Appeal.

The case of Crockett vs. Thompson, et al, was on trial in the District Court yesterday. It involves the title to Crockett's house and home.
